OPPORTUNITIES

DEAR FRIEND,

FifoCon...is about discovery...

We would like to ask you for a favor. We would like for you to think back to the years of your childhood, back when you flew through the air as a super hero or plotted in a secret lair as a villain. Back when your Star Wars and GI Joe figures struggled in epic Battle Royales or you slayed a dragon with a stick in your backyard.

As we grew older, our imagination grew as well and we became fascinated by tabletop and role-playing games. It was there where whole worlds were created by pen and paper and brought to life by like-minded individuals who participated in creating interactive experiences. Elements of chaos, magic, and mystery were limited only by our imaginations and helped create experiences and friendships that lasted lifetimes.

Video games came after, allowing us to visually immerse ourselves in the worlds that we had previously only been able to imagine, bringing myths to life and allowing us to share real-time experiences with our friends.

It was not long before people pushed those boundaries as well, and ventured even further into the realm of make believe, actively becoming a part of the story through Live Action Role Playing and CosPlay. Individuals learned different crafts and trades and entire industries were created from the desire to develop screen accurate replicas of props from movies, comic books, and video games.

FifoCon...is about opportunity... for those who seek and for those who can bestow.

We want a hand in creating these experiences for others. We want to share our vision and our creativity by building worlds in which others can play.

FifoCon however, is not just a place to play games, it is a place for individuals to discover the avenues of entry into the creative industries, both through the arts and technology. FifoCon is a place for creatives to once again, come together, create new worlds, and develop opportunities.

But, most importantly, FifoCon is about supporting the preservation efforts of our most valuable resource - our people.

Please consider adding your coin to the treasure that is FifoCon.

Andre Chapoy,
Event Manager

At FifoCon, we believe that the greatest discoveries happen when people who create experiences come together and share their knowledge.
